ARTIST BIO Diana Davis is a multi-disciplinary artist with an education in fine arts and working experience in the commercial arts field. By combining traditional materials and techniques with contemporary sub-pop references, the artist draws the viewer into a world both familiar and strange. Her works could best be described as multi-media illustrations with a cheery color palette.

ARTIST STATEMENT "Implementing the use of both conventional art forms and digital platforms enables me to explore a space in which traditional technique and contemporary design principle interact visually and conceptually. My focus is the mingling of public and private spaces, with a concentration on the intervals between in which anything is possible. Each work of art I create is a direct response to my everyday experiences and environments."

MATERIALS oil paint, acrylic paint, watercolors, India ink, oil pastels, acrylic ink, charcoal, graphite, found objects, vintage ephemera, chalk pastels, colored pencils, gouache
